

Why Login Screen Best Practices for Blogging Site:

1. Aim for simplicity.
2. Use website branding.
3. Ask for email.
4. Make passwords safe and easy.
5. Provide help if they forget their passwords.
6. Allow sign-in from an external account.
7. Separate login and sign-up.
8. Make it accessible.

Login
